

Key messages

- Anti-government protests and sit-ins continued particularly in the capital, Khartoum with protesters calling on the Transitional Military Council (TMC) to hand over power to civilian administration, as talks between the TMC and leaders of Protesters continued. Poor macroeconomic conditions such as high inflation, weak currency and fuel shortages continued to drive up the cost of commodities including agricultural inputs with the larger population having to bear the heavy burden of high costs, as traders seek to cushion their profit margins.
- Household food security, that is both availability and access persisted through the month. According to FEWSNET, food security is expected to continue to deteriorate for approximately 5.8 million most vulnerable people in Darfur, Blue Nile, Kordofan, Kassala, South Kordofan, and much of Red Sea states through September, due in large part to persistent macroeconomic difficulties.
- The humanitarian situation in Sudan remains dire particularly for the most vulnerable populations without livelihood opportunities and financial means to meet their daily needs. To add to this, there is the threat of the newly vulnerable who will likely turn to humanitarian assistance. Meanwhile funding commitments remain largely unmet and if this persists, the populations will be exposed to prolonged periods of vulnerability. There is also need for greater attention in places of return and host communities, often people return to places where there is limited basic services, adding pressure to the limited facilities available and being used by communities that were already there.
- World Vision Sudan continues to appeal for sustained funding to cover the current emergency caseload, and for donor flexibility to also fund multi-year resilience building projects that is essential in supporting returnees who are settling back, and protracted IDPs in rebuilding their livelihoods and assets.

Food Security Outlook

June - September 2019

Gaps and needs

- Food security is the highest sector with people in need with an estimated 5.8 million at risk. With increasing humanitarian needs, funding appeals remain underfunded. At least 4.4 million are targeted in the 2019 Humanitarian Response Plan, however these numbers are expected to increase when Humanitarian Partners revise these figures to reflect the impact of the months-long protests and the resulting economic circumstances.
- Over the month, World Vision witnessed a surge in the caseload of patients from 450 per week to 1,300 per week, in a primary health clinic it runs, East of Darfur. This was attributed to lack of essential medical supplies and the fact that the only health facility nearby had stopped functioning. These are some of the scenarios being witnessed in places of greater need and thus necessitates an urgent and greater support in health infrastructure.

Humanitarian needs

Funding needs

*All financial figures in US$

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on these maps do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the World Vision International

Creation date: 24 May 2019

Sources: TRUST.ORG, UNOCHA, WFP, IPC, FEWS.NET, RELIEFWEB.

Response highlights

FOOD SECURITY & LIVELIHOODS

- 89,842 vulnerable IDPs (of these 14,577 children) received food assistance through the General Food Distribution programme. Additionally, cash worth US$367,949 was distributed to 43,794 IDPs through the cash-based programming.
- 39 vegetable farmers groups in South Darfur received farming tools and equipment. Additionally, approximately 1100 farmers (more than half being women) received farm inputs.
- There was ongoing training for farmers on land preparation, pest control, seeds preparation and use of organic fertilisers ahead of the planting season.

EDUCATION & PROTECTION

- 8,494 school children in 11 schools in South Darfur received cereals, pulses and vegetable oil, under the Food for Education (FFE) programme.
- 850 participants attended protection awareness raising campaigns conducted across five schools aimed at increasing enrollment in Bielel locality. At least 25 people participated in a training on Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse.

NUTRITION

- 4,233 children under five years old admitted with Moderate Acute Malnutrition (MAM) were treated in South Darfur. In total, 8,849 people including Pregnant and Lactating Women (PLW) were screened.
- In Blue Nile, 312 children were admitted with Severe Acute Malnutrition (SAM). In total 12,317 children under five were screened. In East Darfur, 1,071 children under five years, as well as PLWs were screened for malnutrition.

HEALTH

- 17,696 IDPs, refugees and host community in South Darfur were able to access basic healthcare services at 24 World Vision supported clinics. Services included free outpatient medical consultation, laboratory, vaccination, and ante-natal, post-natal care and delivery services. Patients also were provided with free medication.
- 7,676 people, a majority of them are refugees, accessed free health and nutrition services at the World Vision supported clinic in East Darfur. There were a total of 48 deliveries, and 488 children under five years old who were vaccinated.

WATER, SANITATION & HYGIENE

- Approximately 79,500 internally displaced persons (IDPs) and host community in Blue Nile and South Darfur accessed clean water from World Vision supported water facilities such as newly drilled boreholes, upgraded water systems and rehabilitated hand pumps.
- 2,825 people (1,535 of them South Sudanese refugees hosted in Alradoum refugee camp in East Darfur) were able to access improved sanitation following the completion of household latrines. Additionally, hundreds of refugee and IDP school children benefitted from the construction of VIP latrines in South Darfur.
- 17,500 South Sudanese refugees in Alradoum camp and IDPs living in Bielel were provided with hygiene kits that had soap and water containers. Another 800 most vulnerable households in Blue Nile received hygiene kits that included water containers, buckets, drinking cups. At least 900 IDPs and refugees participated in routine clean-up campaigns carried out across three IDP refugee camps in Blue Nile and South Darfur.

Response achievements

Reporting period April 01 - April 30, 2019

Response locations

Primary contact information

Vince Edwards

Country Program Director
 Vince_Edwards@wvi.org
 skype: vedwards1

Jimmy Nadapdap

Operations Director
 Jimmy_Nadapdap@wvi.org
 skype: jimmynadapdap

Lucy Murunga

Communications Manager
 Lucy_Murunga@wvi.org
 skype: Lucy_Murunga

National office donors & partners

Global Affairs
Canada

Affaires mondiales
Canada

Department for International Development

Government of the Netherlands

CHF

UN
DP

Empowered lives.
Resilient nations.

OCHA

Irish Aid
Government of Ireland
Rialtas na hÉireann

UNHCR
The UN Refugee Agency

