“The scale, severity and complexity of humanitarian needs worsened in 2020 due to the economic downturn, rising cost of commodities, and devaluation of local currency, all compounded by the socio-economic impact of COVID-19 and ongoing hostilities. Children paid the highest price with cases of child labor and early marriage increasing higher than before”. Johan Mooji, World Vision Syria’s Response Director