Our Approach

World Vision implements a comprehensive approach, combining health and nutrition interventions with Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) programming and livelihood projects to address the root causes of malnutrition in Cambodia.

Timed and Targeted Counselling A set of basic counselling services aimed to support mothers, children under 5 years and household members at timely intervals to improve health and nutritional status.

Integrated WASH A set of behaviour change interventions and community-led activities to improve access to safe water, promoting good sanitation and hygiene practices.

Local Value Chain Development Agriculture Co-operatives are supported through skills-building programmes, and links with markets and finance institutions to improve local producers' access to the value chain.

Social accountability The Implementation of the Social Accountability Framework (ISAF) aims to improve the quality of health service delivery at the health center level through information of the citizens on their rights, facilitation of dialogue between citizens and service providers and support the development of action plans to improve the performance of health staff. This programme also aims at improving the registration of poor households by commune administration for social assistance (IDPoor programme).
