ABOUT WORLD VISION
AT GHPC 2024 AND
OUR HEALTH WORK
WORLDWIDE

COMMITTED TO EMPOWERING VULNERABLE COMMUNITIES WORLDWIDE

World Vision is committed to empowering vulnerable communities worldwide. One way we do this is by partnering with local stakeholders in the most fragile places to advance community health systems, disease prevention, and climate resilience. Together, we deliver compassionate, innovative, scalable, and impactful programs that yield sustainable health solutions. Our goal: For every child, family, and community to have access to essential health services and the opportunity to thrive.

Communities and Their Health

World Vision empowers communities by training local health workers, promoting community engagement, and establishing community-based surveillance systems. These efforts aim to promote health, prevent disease, and prepare for health emergencies. This aligns with our core value of empowerment, allowing communities to take ownership of their health and well-being.

Climate and Our Environment

Recognizing the impact of climate change on health, World Vision incorporates climate-resilient agriculture and food security programs into our interventions. We work to mitigate the effects of climate change, helping ensure that communities can sustain their health and livelihoods. This reflects our core value of stewardship, as we manage resources to protect and preserve the environment for future generations.

Collaboration for Health

World Vision fosters collaboration between communities, health practitioners, governments, and the private sector to share best practices and improve health outcomes. This multi-sectoral approach ensures comprehensive and integrated health solutions. An example is the USAID-funded CORE Group Polio Project (CGPP) where World Vision for nearly two decades continues to oversee, collaborate, and expand critical health activities, working toward a polio-free world. Our core value of partnership is crucial, enabling collective action for sustainable health improvements.
