Foreword

By: James Chifwellu, National Director
World Vision Lesotho

It is with deep admiration and heartfelt gratitude that we present this commemorative publication honouring His Majesty King Letsie III, whose unwavering leadership in the fight against hunger in Lesotho and Africa continues to shape both our nation and our continent.

As African Union Nutrition Champion, His Majesty has not only elevated Lesotho's voice on global platforms, but has also walked with our communities—listening, encouraging, and standing alongside families in their daily pursuit of dignity through nutrition.

“His Majesty’s voice continues to inspire the continent. His leadership reminds us that when kings speak, the world listens and acts.”

James Chifwelu

At World Vision, we have been humbled and inspired to partner with His Majesty in this journey from the launch of the #ENOUGH campaign at the 37th African Union Summit, to community exhibitions in Mokhotlong, Berea, and Ha-Lejone, and most recently, his powerful call to action at the Nutrition for Growth Summit 2025.

This feature is a celebration of His Majesty the King’s birthday, and a tribute to his legacy of compassion, courage, and conviction. May his example continue to move us all to say, boldly and collectively: #ENOUGH to child hunger and malnutrition.

His Majesty King Letsie III: Championing Nutrition for Lesotho and Africa

A Royal Voice for a Healthier Future | Nutrition for Growth Summit 2025 Feature

As the African Union Champion for Nutrition, His Majesty King Letsie III stood at the helm of global advocacy during the 2025 Nutrition for Growth Summit, held under the banner of unity, urgency, and transformation. Representing both Lesotho and the African continent, His Majesty reaffirmed his role as a powerful moral authority in the battle against child malnutrition.

“We cannot accept a future where children die because they lack a plate of nutritious food. Let us act now, with courage, with compassion, and with collective commitment.” — His Majesty King Letsie III

This summit was more than an event; it was a moment of accountability and inspiration, where His Majesty presented Lesotho’s remarkable progress, a story of hope and resilience.

Lesotho’s Nutrition Progress: 2004 -2024

Call to Action from the Throne

At the summit, His Majesty urged global leaders, donors, and civil society to prioritize sustainable nutrition financing and champion cross-sector collaboration.

He echoed the goals of the #ENOUGH campaign, launched at the 2024 AU Summit, calling for bold investments and measurable commitments to achieve the Global Nutrition Targets by 2030.

“Progress is possible when we work together. Nutrition is not only a health issue, it is a justice issue.”

Saluting Royal Leadership

Through words and actions, His Majesty continues to shine as a symbol of hope and advocate for dignity. His legacy in nutrition will long outlive speeches—it lives in the healthier futures of Lesotho’s children.

Stunting Decline

39% - 36%

Wasting Halved

4% - 2%

Exclusive Breastfeeding

61% surpassing global target of 50%

Under 5 Mortality Reduction
