

Our Events at COP30

From 10 to 21 November, the city of Belém, in Brazil's Pará State, will host the 30th Conference of the Parties (COP30) to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change.

World Vision will be present at COP30 to champion the urgent need for ambitious and just climate action that protects children and communities most affected by the climate crisis. Our delegation will advocate for policies and financing that place children at the heart of climate decisions ensuring their rights, wellbeing, and future are safeguarded.

For World Vision, addressing the climate emergency is not only about protecting the planet; it is about protecting childhood itself.
